J. C. Shannahan,

Pictures! Pictures!! I will probably be closed up in a short while, as my sky-light will be stopped up by the wall of the new building now being erected adjoining my galery. I will then not be able to take pictures until I move bito my quarters in the new building. I hope those who want pictures will call as early as possible and let me serre them while I can.

The Effects of Protection.

There are so many practicable objections to protection that it seems strange that there should be any sincere advocates of the principle in this age of inteligence and liberty. The New York Times, which is a Republican newspaper, puts the following $2,00 cases before its readers, and every $1,00 man in the country, who weard breeches, ought to be able to appreciate its force. The Times says:

The New York Times publishes a comparison of the difference in the prices in New York and London of men's clothing, which no fair-minded reader can consider without acknowledging the injustice of the outrageousystem that makes such a difference possible:

For instance, a broad-cloth dresssuit which costs $50 in New York costs only $22 in London.

A heavy business suit which costs $30 in New York costs but $13 in

A spring serge overcoat which costs $30 h New York costs but $8 50 in London A winter beaver overcoat which costs $35 in New York costs but $14 60 in London.

A silk hat which costs $5 in New York costs but $3 in London.

These articles altogether cost in New York $140. In London they cost but $61. The Jman who buythese clothes, therefore, in New York pays $79 more for them than he could buy them for in London:

What causes this difference in the prices of the two cities? Our tariff.

No one will dispute that with the as in London, at least as cheaply the empty chair spoke of a strange plus the freight rates between the wo cities.

In either case the purchaser of the clothes gets absolutely nothing for the $79 of the $140 which he spends. If on buying the clothes he had to pay $61 to the clothier, and $79 directly to a tax collector, how long would be stand such extortion? In result there is not a particle of difference between that system and the present tariff system, according to which he is thus unnecessarily and exorbitantly taxed, not only on his clothing but on nearly every other necessity of life.

How long will the people of a counthis legalized robbery, which those who uphold it, are pleased to call a protective" tariff?

THE North pole, as seen by a Baltimore clairvoyant: "The pole is situated on an island, having a gradual rise from the water's edge to about the middle of it. On some parts of it appear only bare rocks; on other parts it has an abundant vegetation. About half of it, the east side, is covered with fruittrees. In some parts they grow in dense thickets; in some they grow not so close together, and have grass thickly interspersed among them. The fruit consists of oranges, lemons, bananas, cocoanuts and other tropical fruits, This part of the pole is inhabited by beetles, white and black ants, grasshoppers, and American states, it got our republic humming bird.
